150 MINERS ENTOMBED IN COAL MINE TODAY

GAS EXPLOSION IS CAUSE OF THE AWFUL SPRANGLER DISASTER

SCENES OF GREATEST CONFUSION AROUND THE REILLEY MINE SHAFT

MINE RESCUE CAR RUSHED TO JOHNSTOWN, FROM PITTSBURGH, PA.

(By United Press)

Johnstown, Pa., 2:30 P. M.—Twenty-eight miners were taken alive from a death trap in the Reilley mine at Spangler later this afternoon, but over 100 are believed to have perished in a gas explosion and cave-in. Several dead bodies have been brought out, and others are said to be lying in the shaft.

Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 6.—One hundred and fifty men were entombed in Reilley shaft No. 1 of the Reilley Coal Mining company at Sprangel early today by a gas explosion, according to reports from the mine. Reports from Sprangler are that three men escaped, but that little hope was entertained of saving any of the others.

Mine officials stated that the number entombed was 140 to 150.

They are endeavoring to check up the names of those who had gone into the mine against the list of total employes to see exactly how many were missing.

It was stated full details would not be available for an hour. Scenes of greatest confusion occurred around the shaft as news of the disaster spread.

Explosion Occurred at 7:45 A. M.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 6.—The mine rescue car of the United States Bureau of Mines was rushed to the Reilley mine at Sprangler following reports that 150 miners were entombed by a gas explosion. Reports received by the bureau said the explosion occurred at 7:45 a. m. and at a point 500 feet from the entrance of the shaft.

Photographers Barred

Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 6.—One hundred and forty-four miners trapped beneath the surface in the Reilley mine at Spangler are believed to have perished in an explosion of gas and cave-in, according to reliable reports from the shaft this afternoon.

Officials of the Reilley mine are withholding information, and are barring photographers.

Bodies of five victims already have been located, it was reported unofficially. Rescue crews are at work struggling through fallen timber and dangerous slides of rock to save any of their comrades who may still be alive.

Little hope is entertained that any of the entombed miners have survived the disaster, one of the greatest catastrophes in American mining history.

Most of the miners imprisoned are young men and many wives with infants in their arms stood white faced in the pouring rain waiting, hoping against hope that their "man" would be saved.

Two of the three identified among the first found are young men. One, James Griffin, 22, planned to be married next week. Joseph Fritz, 24, another, was married last week. Jack Logue, 54, the third to be identified, is the father of several children.

Within half an hour after the first report of the explosion had been received, relief agencies were there. The Cambria Steel company's first aid crew and nurses and surgeons of the Red Cross arrived from Johnstown.

First aid crews from the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke corporation and the Imperial Coal company were on the scene within an hour. State mine inspectors are in charge of the rescue work.

Little Hope of Rescue

Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 6.—A little band of miners believed to number between 100 and 150 men is entombed deep in the shaft of the Reilley coal mine at Spangler with little hope entertained of rescuing them, according to officials.

Shortly before 8 o'clock this morning, an explosion brought down the roof of the shaft deep inside the opening, sealing in all of the men who were at work. The fan which supplies aid to them was smashed by the force of the explosion and it was nearly two hours before air was gotten into the pipes. The force of the blast and the fact that the air lines were out of commission made the chances for the men very slim.

Shortly before noon rescue workers reached the first bodies, five being found in one of the working off the main shaft. Word was sent back that others had been discovered.

It was announced that no bodies would be brought to the surface until 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Within a few minutes after the explosion a force of nearly 500 men was working in relays digging into the mine. First aid crews were standing ready as the barrier was broken down. The Cambria Steel company's first aid crew left in automobiles. The Red Cross also sent three automobile loads of trained nurses.

The rescue workers are carrying an airline with them. It is necessary for them to "timber" as they go along, making their progress slow.

Mine officials would make no statements, but it is the opinion of everyone on the scene that none of the men will be found alive. This opinion was strengthened when the first bodies were discovered.

The latest report is that the check up shows between 137 men and 144 men in the mine, but the check up is not official, but on very good authority.

Trouble Now Brewing at Constantinople

EXTENSION OF 8 HOUR WORK DAY FOR FIREMEN AND ENGINEMEN

(By United Press)

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Serious menace to the traveling public will result from the extension of the eight hour workday for railroad firemen and engine men, W. S. Carter, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, told the United States railroad labor board today.

Carter appeared before the board to fight the petition of the Alton railroad for extension of the work day for some classes of work of engine men regarded by unions as the opening drive by the railroads on the eight hour day.

SEEK TO PREVENT VIOLENCE IN THE CHICAGO ELECTIONS

GUARDS ASSIGNED TO PROTECT HOMES OF MANY CITY OFFICIALS

MISCREANTS PREVIOUSLY MADE ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP ALDERMAN'S HOME

(By United Press)

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Police today took every precaution to prevent violence in the Chicago election tomorrow.

Guards were assigned to the homes of officials after an attempt was made to bomb the home of Alderman William R. O'Toole.

The bomb exploded without doing any damage, a few hours after the meeting of precinct captains in O'Toole's home had adjourned. Authorities believe the bomb was designed to explode during the meeting, but was timed wrong. The bomb was a "dudd" and caused little damage. It exploded under the porch. Intense bitterness has been worked up in some sections of the city over local issues and authorities feared further attempts at violence.

SPUR THEIR WEARY WORKERS ON IN ONE LAST EFFORT

ELEVENTH HOUR ATTEMPT TO WIN "DOUBTFUL STATES"

VOTING IS ONLY 24 HOURS AWAY —CHECKING UP FOR A BIG VOTE

(By United Press)

New York, Nov. 6.—Spurring their weary workers to one last effort, political strategists of both parties today put everything they had into an eleventh hour attempt to win the "doubtful" states and districts in tomorrow's elections.

With the voting less than 24 hours away, campaign activities in most states settled down to virtually nothing.

The workers were devoting their time on checking up on arrangements or getting out as big a vote as possible, but the speech making and red fire speeches were all done with.

In most states, too, the voters appeared to have made up their minds about their choices for senators, members of the house, and for such state and local officials as were to be elected. Signs familiar to experienced politicians showed the direction of the political wind in a majority of the states.

Election Campaigns in Northwest

St. Paul, Nov. 6—Election campaigns in the northwest came up to the finish line today.

No matter what other issues have entered into the campaign in Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota, the old guard fight on the nonpartisan league was uppermost today.

Anna Dickie Olesen, democrat woman nominee for United States senator in Minnesota, provided an extra thrill in the Gopher election, but her campaign went into an anti-climax last week and political observers here declared she lost a tremendous lot of ground.

The "smoke up" at the finish has left the seven year old fight between republican regulars and league uppermost in the minds of the voters, it is believed.

"Voters turn their eyes to the newspapers for political wisdom at the last minute," said a veteran politician at the capitol. It is notable that a majority of the newspapers in Minnesota are republican and partisan. They have taken up the cry of "down with socialism" and in the last week have made the issue against the nonpartisan league and against Dr. Henrik Shipstead, head of the farmer-labor ticket.

Senator Frank B. Kellogg is the republican choice, and normally the state has a big republican majority.

BELTRAMI COUNTY MAY BE DIVIDED

(By United Press)

Bemidji, Minn., Nov. 6.—Beltrami county voters will decide tomorrow whether the county shall be divided. It is proposed to divide the county and make the northern half a new county, to be called Lake of the Woods.

An eleventh hour rally of opponents of the plan seems likely to defeat it. The decision rests largely with Bemidji voters, who have a majority of the vote.

ALLIED HIGH COMMISSIONERS WILL NOT EVACUATE CITY

TWO COMPANIES GRENADIER GUARDS SENT AT SULTAN'S REQUEST, GUARD PALACE

DISORDERS FEARED AS CITY IS CELEBRATING ADVENT OF KEMAL REGIME

(By United Press.)

Constantinople, Nov. 6.—The allied high commissioners at Constantinople today informed Refet Pasha, the new governor, they would not evacuate the city in compliance with his demands.

The nationalist government took over control of Constantinople Sunday, the former officials retiring without resistance and immediately Refet Pasha sent a note to the allied commissioners suggesting they order their troops out of the city.

Instead, two companies of grenadier guards were sent at the sultan's request to guard his palace while the allied representatives met and decided to deny the Angora governor's decree.

This morning formal notice was given him that the allies would not evacuate. Disorders are feared as the city's population is celebrating riotously the arrival of the Kemalist administration. At the same time it is reported that Turkish forces are everywhere invading the so-called neutral zone in direct violation of the armistice agreement signed at Mudania.

Kemal Issues Note

Constantinople, Nov. 6.—Mustapha Kemal sent a note to the allies today in which he announced that all foreign warships must ask authorization of the Angora government before entering the straits of the Dardanelles.

The Turkish nationalist leader also decreed that such vessels must salute the new Angora government and its representatives when in the port of Constantinople.

This note apparently was sent before receiving the allied high commissioners' refusal to get their troops out of Constantinople as ordered Sunday when the Angora government took over the city.

Crowds Rioting Near Sultan's Palace

Paris, Nov. 6.—An unconfirmed dispatch to the Agence Radio today said crowds rioting in front of the sultan's palace in Constantinople clashed with British troops.

A rumor flew about Constantinople that the sultan had fled or had been kidnaped, the advices said.

(By United Press.)

Duluth, Nov. 6.—Minnesota will be linked to New York and the Atlantic ocean by five days on water transportation service with the opening of navigation next year, it was announced today.

The McCougal Terminal company, owner of the new line which will be known as the Minnesota Atlantic Transit company, declared the new route will mean cheaper freight rates for farm products and for manufacturers from hte head of the lakes through tide water. W. P. Trickett, for 14 years general manager of the Minneapolis Traffic association, will be generla manager of the new line.

RED RIVER VALLEY NEEDS 20,000 REFRIGERATOR CARS FOR POTATOES

(By United Press.)

St. Paul, Nov. 6.—The Red River valley must have 20,000 refrigerator cars immediately to save the potato crop.

This was the warning of O. P. B. Jacobson, state railroad and warehouse commissioner, today, after a tour of the potato country.

"There are 10,000,000 to 12,000,000 bushels of potatoes still in storage in the Red River valley because of car shortage," said Jacobson. "Thousands of bushels are in sheds, barns and unprotected buildings. They will be a total loss as soon as freezing weather comes."

Additional thousands of bushels of potatoes have not been dug because of prevailing low prices, and will be wasted, he said.

Four men were taken to the city jail and held without charge, pending decision by the United States attorney's office as to action to be taken. The men are Peter R. Sorenson, 3109 Twentieth avenue S., proprietor of the Nokomis pharmacy, 2725 East Thirty-eighth street; Russell Sorenson, his son; George W. Brandt, co-partner in the Brandt Bros drug company, 629 Cedar avenue, and John Dornbach, employed by the A. D. Thompson Drug company, 401 Nicollet avenue.

"Other arrests are expected within 48 hours," the federal agents said.

MINIMUM WAGE DEALT A BLOW

(By United Press)

Washington, Nov. 6.—Minimum wage legislation was dealt a blow here today when Judge J. A. Van Orsdell, in district court, declared unconstitutional the law passed by congress fixing the minimum amounts that could be paid to women and minors in the nation's capital.

The law was considered the opening drive of legislation that would fix minimum wages throughout the country. Such legislation could be legal here only if it was authorized by a constitutional amendment, the judge said.

Ferdinand Jahn, Doorn, Holland, Nov. 6—The ex-kaiser just married left castle Doorn for the first time in months today, but he left his bride behind him.

Wilhelm, up early this morning after his marriage to Princess Hermine, motored from the castle to Amersfort station accompanying his sister-in-law who was returning to Germany.

Back at Doorn house, the emperor warmly greeted his bride who by this time had put in an appearance, and the couple, rosy-cheeked and apparently most happy took a walk about the grounds.

PREDICTS VICTORY FOR G. O. P. TICKET

KELLOGG SUPPORT URGED TO DEFEAT SHIPSTEAD, SOCIALISM; TERM LaFOLLETTE UNPATRIOTIC

St. Paul, Nov. 6.—The following statement was issued tonight by Chairman Charles R. Adams of the republican state central committee:

"The visit of Robert M. La Follette to Minnesota in the interest of Dr. Henrik Shipstead served the very good purpose of clarifying in the public mind the one real issue of the campaign, Socialism as against American government.

"From the present indications the entire republican ticket from top to bottom will be elected, if the voters will go to the polls. The people of Minnesota know what the issue is. They know that the only sure way to defeat Socialism as represented in this campaign by Dr. Shipstead is by concentrating on Senator Kellogg.

"There can be no doubt as to their verdict.

"Senator La Follette's visit also revealed another highly important fact. Every word that the Wisconsin senator has said for his fellow radical, Dr. Shipstead, has indicated beyond any doubt that La Follette is working for the presidency in 1924. Every move in his visit to Minnesota has been directed toward securing the republican delegation from this state in the next national convention. The presence of Dr. Shipstead, candidate of the Socialist Nonpartisan League, in the state would of course be of great assistance to Senator La Follette's present plan.

"The citizenship of Minnesota is sound at the core. There is no doubt that they will look with repugnance on anything which will further the scheme of the senator from Wisconsin, the two chief features of whose visit have been his attack on the memory of Theodore Roosevelt and his characteristically contemptible reference to Senator Kellogg in the following terms:

"'God Almighty, through nature, writes men's characters in their faces and in their forms. Your senator has bowed obsequiously to wealth and to corporations' orders and to his masters until God Almighty has given him a hump on his back—crouching, cringing, un-American, unmanly.'

"It must be remembered, however, that Dr. Shipstead will get the vote of every Socialist and every radical in Minnesota as well as the votes of some well-intentioned citizens who have as yet been unable to realize the fact that the Nonparty League which is back of him is Socialistic in leadership and in principle and in its objects. It is to be hoped that the good citizens of Minnesota on Tuesday will present a united front. They are numerous enough of course to overwhelmingly repel the Socialist attack this year as they have on two previous occasions. The only danger in the situation is that some of them may fail to realize that with all of her estimable qualities Mrs. Olesen is without chance of election and that enough votes for her might make the election of Dr. Shipstead possible."

CLEANING UP THE WRECKAGE AT THE SHAMROCK CYCLONE

CARING FOR SCORES OF PERSONS RENDERED HOMELESS BY STORM

Funeral service for six victims were to be held today and tomorrow. Wilfred Dobson, 15, will be buried at Cushing today. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jennings and their son, Cleo, 15, will be buried here tomorrow, according to plans. These four were in the same house when the storm broke.

Weis Walton, rancher, and Col. Fugate, were also killed. Six persons were injured but will recover.

Total damage of the cyclone was estimated near the million dollar mark. Heaviest damage resulted in the oil fields where approximately 150 rigs were wrecked.

WOMEN CANDIDATES FOR NATIONAL OFFICE

(By United Press)

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Result of women's candidacy for national offices will be closely watched as the vote from tomorrow's election is counted.

Three states—Wisconsin, Minnesota and Illinois—have women congressional candidates.

Mrs. Anna Dickie Olesen, democrat, fighting for the seat of Senator Frank B. Kellogg, in Minnesota, has made the most thorough and comprehensive campaign ever conducted by a woman candidate for office, her supporters claim.

In Wisconsin the veteran Senator La Follette is fighting against Mrs. Ben Hooper, democrat.

Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck, of Chicago, is seeking to sit in the seat of her father, the late Congressman Mason, of Illinois, to fill his unexpired term.

NEW PUMP MADE TO FIGHT FOREST FIRES

Fairmont, Nov. 6.—At the request of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad, the Fairmont Gas Engine company has constructed and demonstrated a high pressure pump for the express purpose of fighting forest fires in northern Minnesota. This new pump throws a stream from 100 to 120 feet at a pressure so great that with the nozzle 12 to 20 feet from the sand, a ditch four to six inches deep can be cut in sand at the rate of about 10 feet a minute. Section men, it is believed, with this apparatus can easily extinguish fires started along the line of the railroad by locomotives. Where water is not available, it is proposed to carry a small tank car attached to the motor on which the pump is to be mounted.

LIQUOR ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN ILLEGALLY OWNED SEIZED—CHECK PRESCRIPTIONS

Minneapolis, Nov. 6.—Federal agents visited four Minneapolis drug stores, confiscating liquor alleged to have been covered by no evidence of official withdrawal. Cancelled prescriptions also were seized.

Four men were taken to the city jail and held without charge, pending decision by the United States attorney's office as to action to be taken. The men are Peter R. Sorenson, 3109 Twentieth avenue S., proprietor of the Nokomis pharmacy, 2725 East Thirty-eighth street; Russell Sorenson, his son; George W. Brandt, co-partner in the Brandt Bros drug company, 629 Cedar avenue, and John Dornbach, employed by the A. D. Thompson Drug company, 401 Nicollet avenue.

"Other arrests are expected within 48 hours," the federal agents said.

MINIMUM WAGE DEALT A BLOW

(By United Press)

Washington, Nov. 6.—Minimum wage legislation was dealt a blow here today when Judge J. A. Van Orsdell, in district court, declared unconstitutional the law passed by congress fixing the minimum amounts that could be paid to women and minors in the nation's capital.

The law was considered the opening drive of legislation that would fix minimum wages throughout the country. Such legislation could be legal here only if it was authorized by a constitutional amendment, the judge said.

Wilhelm, Just Married, Leaves Castle Home

(By United Press)

Ferdinand Jahn, Doorn, Holland, Nov. 6—The ex-kaiser just married left castle Doorn for the first time in months today, but he left his bride behind him.

Wilhelm, up early this morning after his marriage to Princess Hermine, motored from the castle to Amersfort station accompanying his sister-in-law who was returning to Germany.

Back at Doorn house, the emperor warmly greeted his bride who by this time had put in an appearance, and the couple, rosy-cheeked and apparently most happy took a walk about the grounds.

PREDICTS VICTORY FOR G. O. P. TICKET

KELLOGG SUPPORT URGED TO DEFEAT SHIPSTEAD, SOCIALISM; TERM LaFOLLETTE UNPATRIOTIC

St. Paul, Nov. 6.—The following statement was issued tonight by Chairman Charles R. Adams of the republican state central committee:

"The visit of Robert M. La Follette to Minnesota in the interest of Dr. Henrik Shipstead served the very good purpose of clarifying in the public mind the one real issue of the campaign, Socialism as against American government.

"From the present indications the entire republican ticket from top to bottom will be elected, if the voters will go to the polls. The people of Minnesota know what the issue is. They know that the only sure way to defeat Socialism as represented in this campaign by Dr. Shipstead is by concentrating on Senator Kellogg.

"There can be no doubt as to their verdict.

"Senator La Follette's visit also revealed another highly important fact. Every word that the Wisconsin senator has said for his fellow radical, Dr. Shipstead, has indicated beyond any doubt that La Follette is working for the presidency in 1924. Every move in his visit to Minnesota has been directed toward securing the republican delegation from this state in the next national convention. The presence of Dr. Shipstead, candidate of the Socialist Nonpartisan League, in the state would of course be of great assistance to Senator La Follette's present plan.

"The citizenship of Minnesota is sound at the core. There is no doubt that they will look with repugnance on anything which will further the scheme of the senator from Wisconsin, the two chief features of whose visit have been his attack on the memory of Theodore Roosevelt and his characteristically contemptible reference to Senator Kellogg in the following terms:

"'God Almighty, through nature, writes men's characters in their faces and in their forms. Your senator has bowed obsequiously to wealth and to corporations' orders and to his masters until God Almighty has given him a hump on his back—crouching, cringing, un-American, unmanly.'

"It must be remembered, however, that Dr. Shipstead will get the vote of every Socialist and every radical in Minnesota as well as the votes of some well-intentioned citizens who have as yet been unable to realize the fact that the Nonparty League which is back of him is Socialistic in leadership and in principle and in its objects. It is to be hoped that the good citizens of Minnesota on Tuesday will present a united front. They are numerous enough of course to overwhelmingly repel the Socialist attack this year as they have on two previous occasions. The only danger in the situation is that some of them may fail to realize that with all of her estimable qualities Mrs. Olesen is without chance of election and that enough votes for her might make the election of Dr. Shipstead possible."

WOMEN CANDIDATES FOR NATIONAL OFFICE

(By United Press)

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Result of women's candidacy for national offices will be closely watched as the vote from tomorrow's election is counted.

Three states—Wisconsin, Minnesota and Illinois—have women congressional candidates.

Mrs. Anna Dickie Olesen, democrat, fighting for the seat of Senator Frank B. Kellogg, in Minnesota, has made the most thorough and comprehensive campaign ever conducted by a woman candidate for office, her supporters claim.

In Wisconsin the veteran Senator La Follette is fighting against Mrs. Ben Hooper, democrat.

Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck, of Chicago, is seeking to sit in the seat of her father, the late Congressman Mason, of Illinois, to fill his unexpired term.

NEW PUMP MADE TO FIGHT FOREST FIRES

Fairmont, Nov. 6.—At the request of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad, the Fairmont Gas Engine company has constructed and demonstrated a high pressure pump for the express purpose of fighting forest fires in northern Minnesota. This new pump throws a stream from 100 to 120 feet at a pressure so great that with the nozzle 12 to 20 feet from the sand, a ditch four to six inches deep can be cut in sand at the rate of about 10 feet a minute. Section men, it is believed, with this apparatus can easily extinguish fires started along the line of the railroad by locomotives. Where water is not available, it is proposed to carry a small tank car attached to the motor on which the pump is to be mounted.

LOSING HIS FINGER END WILL NOT STOP CAREER

(By United Press.)

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov 6—William T. Tilden, II, tennis champion will lose the upper portion of the middle finger on his right hand from the distal joint, Dr. W. B. Swartley, attoday.

tending the champion, announced

"The phalanx has become gangrenous. The upper portion of the finger is very loose and may drop off any day," the physician stated.

FAREWELL PARTY

Farmer Friends and Neighbors Pay Honors to Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Black, Soon to Go to St. Paul

Farmer friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Black, gave a surprise party on this couple Friday evening, at their home four miles east of Brainerd, the event being in the nature of a farewell party, as the Blacks are moving to St. Paul next week.

There were 160 guests present, so many that the house was overfilled and the company adjourned to the Oak Lawn town hall for the evening's entertainment.

Dancing and games were the order of the occasion, closing in the small hours of the morning with a delicious luncheon. Mr. and Mrs. Black were presented with a large electric piano lamp as a token of esteem in which they are held in their community.

Mr. Black moved to Brainerd several years ago, and has improved his Oak street farm to the extent that it is one of the best equipped in the county. His buildings are well arranged with running water and electric lights, and every kind of modern equipment and labor-saving machinery.

The owner has just disposed of this farm, taking in exchange a large apartment house in St. Paul, and the family will move down to take charge of that property early next week.

Mr. Black will be greatly missed, especially among the farmers. He was a tireless worker in the interest of the rural communities, and has been president of the Crow Wing County Farm Bureau the past year. It is with regret that his many friends are parting company with such an associate, and it is hoped that the Blacks will soon decide to return to this county.

To the people of Brainerd:

I want every man and woman in Brainerd to vote for me whether they like me or not and I want them to ask all the people in the country and other villages to vote for me because it is their duty to their children to do so.

I have a lot of unfinished work which I just MUST finish and if you do not give me a chance to finish it, the general public will lose hundreds of dollars and I will have lost nearly my whole four years work.

I do not want the office long—just long enough to work out a plan whereby you can get most of your lines without the expense of a surveyor. The office was in bad shape when I took it and the section corners and block corners either lost or only marked with wooden stakes or gas pipe and not recorded. What I want you to do, is to help me get these corners monumented and recorded so that any person can find them, and so that our children will not be plunged into litigation over lost lines, in the years to come.

Yours truly,
JOHN W. CURO,
County Surveyor

Mrs. Maud L. Smith, mother of Lowry Smith, for many years a resident of this city and well known here, died at 7:28 p. m. last Friday at the Northern Pacific hospital in St. Paul. The remains were taken to her childhood home in Shelbyville, Kentucky for burial, being accompanied by her son Lowry, and F. E. Stout, of this city.

Clemens A. Hadersbeck, age four and a half years, was operated on this morning at St. Joseph's hospital. A history of the case is interesting. Upon the advice of local doctors, the father took the lad to Duluth a short time ago to consult a bone specialist and upon the latter's decision a very delicate operation had to be performed as a result of the infantile paralysis which the boy had about three years ago. The boy was brought back to Brainerd and the operation performed this morning at St. Joseph's hospital by local surgeons, and the patient has a very good chance for recovery.

FAREWELL PARTY

Farmer Friends and Neighbors Pay Honors to Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Black, Soon to Go to St. Paul

Farmer friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Black, gave a surprise party on this couple Friday evening, at their home four miles east of Brainerd, the event being in the nature of a farewell party, as the Blacks are moving to St. Paul next week.

There were 160 guests present, so many that the house was overfilled and the company adjourned to the Oak Lawn town hall for the evening's entertainment.

Dancing and games were the order of the occasion, closing in the small hours of the morning with a delicious luncheon. Mr. and Mrs. Black were presented with a large electric piano lamp as a token of esteem in which they are held in their community.

Mr. Black moved to Brainerd several years ago, and has improved his Oak street farm to the extent that it is one of the best equipped in the county. His buildings are well arranged with running water and electric lights, and every kind of modern equipment and labor-saving machinery.

The owner has just disposed of this farm, taking in exchange a large apartment house in St. Paul, and the family will move down to take charge of that property early next week.

Mr. Black will be greatly missed, especially among the farmers. He was a tireless worker in the interest of the rural communities, and has been president of the Crow Wing County Farm Bureau the past year. It is with regret that his many friends are parting company with such an associate, and it is hoped that the Blacks will soon decide to return to this county.

To the people of Brainerd:

I want every man and woman in Brainerd to vote for me whether they like me or not and I want them to ask all the people in the country and other villages to vote for me because it is their duty to their children to do so.

I have a lot of unfinished work which I just MUST finish and if you do not give me a chance to finish it, the general public will lose hundreds of dollars and I will have lost nearly my whole four years work.

I do not want the office long—just long enough to work out a plan whereby you can get most of your lines without the expense of a surveyor. The office was in bad shape when I took it and the section corners and block corners either lost or only marked with wooden stakes or gas pipe and not recorded. What I want you to do, is to help me get these corners monumented and recorded so that any person can find them, and so that our children will not be plunged into litigation over lost lines, in the years to come.

Yours truly,

COUNTY ROADS IN GOOD SHAPE

All Those Under Supervision of County Highway Engineer in Good Repair Since Rain

ROAD BULLETIN IS PLANNED

For Benefit of Travelers These will be Published in the Brainerd Dispatch

Good news to Brainerd motorist is contained in the statement from the County Highway Engineer's office, that all roads in the county under the supervision of this office have been put in good repair since the recent rains.

This, of course does not apply to the trunk highways out of Brainerd to Little Falls, Staples, Pequot or the Range. These are under the direct supervision of the State Department. It is stated that Ash Avenue and Mill street are in very bad condition, but it is pointed out that this section of the highway, as far as the Mississippi river bridge, is under the direction of the city.

The county highway department states that the 13th street road is in very good condition from Brainerd to the Morrison county line. The Merrifield road, from Brainerd north as far as it is completed is also in very good shape. The finished sections of the Crosby-Emily highway are reported as good, and the Deerwood-Bay Lake road as very fair.

It is planned by County Highway Engineer Walter M. Murphy, to post a bulletin each week, showing the condition of each of these county-supervised roads, and for the benefit of the traveler, these bulletins will be published in the Dispatch. They will be similiar in form to the reports sent out by the state department relative to the conditions of trunk highways.

Charles H. Dow, of the experimental engineering laboratories of the University of Minnesota, has recently made extensive investigations of highways which have been experimenitally surfaced with marl. There are two such projects in the state, one, the larger, is in Crow Wing county, north of Pelican Lake, the other south of Little Falls near rice. The marl found near the latter town is not of as good quality as the Crow Wing county product, and the erperiments there are not proving as satisfactory as in the Pelican lake section. Mr. Dow found that our marl roads stood up exceptionally well under the recent rains, which would seem to prove that this substance makes a very good surfacing material. It is possible that more will be done with it next season.

ENTIRE CHORUS OF MUSICAL SHOW NAMED

Chicago, Nov. 4.—For the first time in the history of Chicago's divorce courts the entire chorus of a musical show was named in a divorce suit filed by Mrs. Meta Murphy, wife of James H. ("Rolls Royce") Murphy, millionaire head of the Murphy Feed company and president of the Victory Livery company.

The wife said she married him in October, 1901, when his income was only $1.50 a day as a streetcar conductor, but adds he now is worth over a million and has an income of $50,000 a year, and that because of his spending proclivities he won the nickname of "Rolls Royce" Murphy among the women of the chorus of the Follies of 1920.

According to the bill, Mr. Murphy and Mrs. Frances Peckham, "wife of an attorney," spent their vacation together at the Hefferman lodge at Eagle River, Wis.

The girls of the musical comedy company came into his life in 1920, the bill states, and adds he entertained them lavishly at their various apartments.

HUSBAND SIGNS AWAY HIS WIFE IN TRADE FOR 1911 MODEL FLIVVER

Oswego, N. Y., Nov. 4.—To satisfy his craving for an automobile, Fred R. Woodruff, of Fulton, N. Y., traded his wife, the mother of his two children, to Grover Coant of the same town for a 1911 model flivver.

A written agreement binding the bargain, signed by the three persons involved, was made public by police investigating the strange transaction.

The document, in which Woodruff signed away his wife, read:

"Fulton, N. Y, 18th of July, 1921.

"I have signed my wife on this 18th day of July to Grover Coant for his Ford touring car and all the considerations including one tire, one pump and all the tools in the car at the present time. I let all bonds drop on my wife this 18th day of July, nineteen twenty-one.

"Fred R. Woodruff.
"Grover Coant.
"Neda Woodruff."

Mrs. Woodruff obediently affixed her name to the artfeles.

Some time after Coant and Mrs. Woodruff had taken up together a former owner of the car turned up and demanded that Woodruff settle the $40 mortgage which he held on the machine.

Woodruff couldn't pay and lost the car.

Mrs. Woodruff has fled from Coant's home and is now in Utica, but her address is unknown to either of the men.

CRESUS' OWN COINS, 30 WORTH $1,000,000 BROUGHT TO AMERICA

New York, Nov. 6.—Thirty small gold coins, believed to be among the first ever minted and possessing an intrinsic value estimated at more than $1,000,000, were brought to the United States by George Horton, American consul general at Smyrna, who is on leave of absence.

The coins were entrusted to Mr. Horton's care after being unearthed in April by American archeologists working in the buried ruins of Saris, the ancient Lydian capital in Asia Minor. When Mr. Horton was forced to flee from the flames that swept Smyrna, the gold coins and his records were among the few things he was able to save.

The coins are of the mintage of 546, when he was captured by Cyrus. Cresus, the last king of Lydia, and the first great international banker, whose name has been a symbol of wealth for nearly 2,500 years. They were coined some time between 561 B. C., when Cresus ascended the Lydian throne and the Persian monarch.

MEASURES AND MEN

FOUR measures that are of importance to the people of Brainerd are before the voters for their consideration, and their fate will be determined by the votes cast in tomorrow's election. These measures are important because they determine what the city council is to do in Brainerd and what the state legislature is to do in the state. Criticisms are often heard of the legislation passed by legislators when in session, but, when the legislators ask that the people express themselves on important issues, the electorate is not always enthusiastic in seeking information upon these issues or in getting out to vote for them.

The two amendments that concern state legislation are sufficiently important to call for the vote of every citizen of Minnesota. No. 1 on the pink ballot empowers the legislature to go ahead and prepare a bill which will make it possible for the state to advance money to farmers over a long period of time and at a low rate of interest. There is a general feeling that the farmer has not been getting a square deal, and legislators are being blamed for the farmers' misfortunes; it therefore behooves all critics of the legislation of this state, as it affects agriculture, to get out and vote for amendment No. 1.

Amendment No. 2 calls for an occupational tax upon all ores produced in Northern Minnesota, this tax to be in addition to all other taxes at present assessed against the ores produced in this state. As this amendment imposes a heavy burden upon the mining industry of Northern Minnesota, and offers an advantage to the people of the south at the expense of the people of the northern part of the state, it should be voted down by the electorate of Northern Minnesota. Every voter should cast a vote for these amendments because 50 per cent of the total vote of the state must be affirmative to carry an amendment.

The two amendments to the city charter have been thoroughly discussed in this city and the voters are ready to express themselves at the polls. The only argument in favor of increasing the membership of the Water & Light Board from three to five members, and having these members elected instead of appointed as at present, is that the elective method is the more democratic. But the people of Brainerd are not going to sell the efficiency and success of the Water & Light Board for such a price, they value success and ability more than a mere theory of government. The people of Brainerd are most interested in results.

The personnel on the county ticket is generally known to the voters. All of the candidates are qualified for the positions they seek. The main question before the voters is to decide which candidates are best qualified by experience to fill the offices to which they aspire.

The important question on the state ticket is this: Who is to represent Minnesota in the United States senate? This question will be answered in favor of Senator Kellogg unless the resentment, born of conditions, leads to the casting of votes of discontent by a large number of the citizens of Minnesota. The state ticket is securely republican, and Harold Knutson is sure of election as congressman from the Sixth district. Over-confidence, however, must not be allowed to lead to voters failing to cast their votes for the candidates they favor. Every voter should express his or her interest in these measures and personnel by voting one way or the other.

ANOTHER ABSOLUTE RULER FALLS

AFTER all the denunciation of the sultan by leaders of civilized peoples, it remained for the Turks themselves to invite their sultan to resign. The story of Turkey, under an absolute ruler, is one of deplorable episodes in which the butchery of minorities has had no small part. This arbitrary policy, cruel and ruthless, and pursued in spite of the protests of more humane people, has had a dangerous tendency. Ever and anon there have been rumors of punishment to be meted out to the Turk by Christian nations, but policies of compromise have prevented any nation or nations asking for a reckoning. Only during the World war was there any unanimity of opinion among the nations as to the price Turkey should pay for the commission of atrocities that have written red the pages of her history. Then the united voice of the allies, perhaps more because of Turkey had taken sides with the Central Empire than because of her outrages, demanded that Turkey should be excluded from Europe.

In preparing a peace settlement, the allies wrote into it provisions that called for the exclusion of this power from association with the nations of Europe, only to have their wishes thrown aside by the successful march of Turkish forces under the able leadership of Mustapha Kemal who, after he had defeated the Greeks, made demands upon the European nations that called for a return of the Turks to Europe. Many of the demands made by Kemal were granted so that war in Europe might be avoided and a conference will soon be held to consider a final settlement of the questions yet at issue.

In deciding to demand the sultan's resignation, the Turkish nationalist government has taken a step which may change the whole of the attitude assumed by Turkey towards other peoples who, as minorities, have suffered at the hands of the Turk in the past. Armenians may from now on have less to fear from their enemy. Much of Turkey's horrible history has resulted from the relation of her religion to her politics and the divorce of these may promise better days for Turkey and her neighbors.

Those who have met Mustapha Kemal and other leaders of the nationalist government have paid tribute to their sincerity of purpose and able leadership, and, because they are of a new school and have had their attitude to life colored by wider contacts, it is likely that the future of Turkey will be less befouled than her past. It is well that this has been done by the Turks themselves, for reforms that are self-imposed are much more likely to yield good than are reforms that are compelled by outside forces. The new nationalist government has chosen to relegate to itself all the power in Constantinople and throughout Turkey, and a caliph chosen from members of the imperial family on the basis of instruction, education, honesty and wisdom will preside over the religious affairs of the Moslem world. In the separation of religion and politics resides hope of a better order, for the Mohammedan religion holds so vast a sway over the Turkish people, through suggesting conquest of those who are not of Islam by military force, that only through the divorce of the government from the temple can Turkey take her place with the Christian nations of the world.

HIGHWAYS FAIR AFTER THE RAINS

St. Paul, Nov. 4.—Minnesota trunk highways in general are in fair condition following soaking fall rains over the state which slowed up the graveled and unsurfaced sections of the system.

This brief condition notation was made today by the state highway department on suspension for the year of the weekly bulletin giving in detail the trunk route conditions. Reports from the maintenance superintendents in sixteen districts covering the entire state indicated that rains were pulling down the roads generally except on the paved sections.

The highway department plans to resume publication of the weekly condition bulletins at the opening of the heavy traffic season next year.

Swanson's Record on

Railroad Gross Earnings Tax Amendment

So as to secure relief to railroad towns. This I advocated in 1916 and introduced several bills in the legislature for the same, which eventually resulted in the passage of two important laws, one being to permit special assessments against railroad property for public improvements. From this law Brainerd secured the following benefits:

Brainerd, for paving Oak Street $15,718.34
Brainerd, for new sewer, estimated $10,000.00

This law is not unfair against the railroads, as the railroads in all other states pay for special assessments, and why shouldn't they do so in Minnesota.

Under the other law, which is to give relief to schools in railroad towns where large railroad properties are located, the State will pay Brainerd for 1922 alone $32,031.61 and which benefit will continue each year, if our school tax is high.
This makes a total benefit to Brainerd under these two laws, in the sum of $57,800.33 which is a direct saving to every tax payer of a large portion of his tax. My estimate in the Brainerd Dispatch on December 28th, 1916, which published a copy of my bill, as to what Brainerd might secure for its schools under a similar law, was $34,771.95, and Brainerd secured almost that amount for its schools.

Little Falls has secured a benefit on account of sewer under the first law of $1,146.38, and other cities and villages have, and will secure money from the railroads when public improvements are made.

The passage of these two laws required considerable work during three sessions, as my file will show. I wrote every state in the union as to their railroad tax laws and claim that both these laws are the result of my special efforts to bring about a just and fair return to railroad towns out of the gross earnings tax. After my bill was introduced, we had numerous committee meetings during each session of the legislature wherein we tried to convince the members of the legislature that the proposed law was fair and just. I was assisted materially at these meetings by members of the school board and superintendent and other committees from this locality, and throughout the state. This is the first tax money Brainerd has ever secured from the railroads or from the state because the railroad shops are located here and have been for some 51 years, except $7,122.66 which the railroad paid on the Kindred Street pavement, evidently in contemplation that this law would go into effect. We trust this is serving the citizens and taxpayers of this community.

Other Important Measures of Which I Have Been Author or Co-Author, or In Which I have Taken an Active Part in Securing the Passage of the Same During My Terms as Representative and Senator in the Minnesota Legislature:

1. Refundment to Counties from State, for monies spent under county bond issue for roads has resulted in refundments to date totaling $218,850.16 for Crow Wing and $235,071.41 to Morrison county. Fully supported the Highway Commissioner, Mr. Babcock, in Trunk Highway bill. We now have pavement in Morrison county to Belle Prairie, which will be continued on to Brainerd.
2. Experiment Station in Sandy Soil. Established at Crow Wing and which was placed there as a result of my special effort in securing the passage of this bill of which I was author. This experiment has been successful, and will result in great benefit to this territory, where there is much sandy soil.
3. Deficiency School Appropriation. Secured for Morrison county schools $12,000.00; Crow Wing county schools $8,012.80.
4. Workmen's Compensation. Co-author amendment to raise compensation to injured workmen from $11 per week to $15, and then to $18 per week. Also raising the per cent of the compensation from 50 to 65 per cent, and then to 66 2-3 per cent; also changing the waiting period from two weeks to one week, and then the waiting period was removed, providing the injured employee was disabled for four weeks; also raised the total disability from 300 to 400 weeks, and total disability from $5,000 to $7,500, and also selection of physician by workmen on his petition, and numerous amendments.
5. Labor Measures. One day's rest in seven. Limiting hours of employment of women and minors, and minimum wage. Compensation to workmen for time lost while waiting for pay. Foundry bill for health and safety of employees. Railway car shed bill, so men would not have to work out in the open. Sanitation for lumber camps. Civil service. Nurses bill for shorter hours and better pay for students. Constitutional amendment for 8-hour working day, and other reasonable labor laws.
6. Wilkinson Co-Operative Bill and supported all farmer legislation.
7. Soldiers Bonus and Tuition. I made an early effort in the 1919 session for the passagt of this legislation, and introduced one of the first bills for the same, and have materially assisted a large part of the disabled veterans in securing compensation and vocational training.
8. Bessette Land Clearing Bill, which gave financial assistance to farmers in clearing land.
9. Education Bill. Author of blind and deaf education bill, providing for the education outside of the state institution, under which a school for deaf children was established in Brainerd for two years. Supported every educational and University bill.
10. Co-Author of Absent Voters Bill.
11. Author of Pure Drug Bill and False Labelling.
12. Author of Barber Bill, a health measure.
13. Author of County Agent Bill in 1919.
14. Author of Bill for Pensions for Disabled Blind.
15. Child Welfare Bill. Materially assisted in passage of same.
16. Mother's Pension Law. Assisted in securing additional relief for mothers.
17. Poultry Association. Secured appropriations of $400 annually for poultry associations in both counties.
18. Voted for Woman's Suffrage and all Temperance Measures, including National Amendment, and suppression of roadhouses.

During the four sessions in which I served, 7263 bills were introduced and 1642 of the same became laws, and I was author or co-author or committee-author of 136 bills, of which 60 became laws.

I was on the job every day of the session and I believe I can conscientiously state that I assisted in the passage of numerous laws for the benefit of the people, and that I have opposed laws that were detrimental.

My record will show that I have faithfully served all of my constituents.

I believe every candidate for the legislature should have a platform stating his views on vital questions of the day, so that the public will know where he sands.

MEASURES AND MEN

FOUR measures that are of importance to the people of Brainerd are before the voters for their consideration, and their fate will be determined by the votes cast in tomorrow's election. These measures are important because they determine what the city council is to do in Brainerd and what the state legislature is to do in the state. Criticisms are often heard of the legislation passed by legislators when in session, but, when the legislators ask that the people express themselves on important issues, the electorate is not always enthusiastic in seeking information upon these issues or in getting out to vote for them.

The two amendments that concern state legislation are sufficiently important to call for the vote of every citizen of Minnesota. No. 1 on the pink ballot empowers the legislature to go ahead and prepare a bill which will make it possible for the state to advance money to farmers over a long period of time and at a low rate of interest. There is a general feeling that the farmer has not been getting a square deal, and legislators are being blamed for the farmers' misfortunes; it therefore behooves all critics of the legislation of this state, as it affects agriculture, to get out and vote for amendment No. 1.

Amendment No. 2 calls for an occupational tax upon all ores produced in Northern Minnesota, this tax to be in addition to all other taxes at present assessed against the ores produced in this state. As this amendment imposes a heavy burden upon the mining industry of Northern Minnesota, and offers an advantage to the people of the south at the expense of the people of the northern part of the state, it should be voted down by the electorate of Northern Minnesota. Every voter should cast a vote for these amendments because 50 per cent of the total vote of the state must be affirmative to carry an amendment.

The two amendments to the city charter have been thoroughly discussed in this city and the voters are ready to express themselves at the polls. The only argument in favor of increasing the membership of the Water & Light Board from three to five members, and having these members elected instead of appointed as at present, is that the elective method is the more democratic. But the people of Brainerd are not going to sell the efficiency and success of the Water & Light Board for such a price, they value success and ability more than a mere theory of government. The people of Brainerd are most interested in results.

The personnel on the county ticket is generally known to the voters. All of the candidates are qualified for the positions they seek. The main question before the voters is to decide which candidates are best qualified by experience to fill the offices to which they aspire.

The important question on the state ticket is this: Who is to represent Minnesota in the United States senate? This question will be answered in favor of Senator Kellogg unless the resentment, born of conditions, leads to the casting of votes of discontent by a large number of the citizens of Minnesota. The state ticket is securely republican, and Harold Knutson is sure of election as congressman from the Sixth district. Over-confidence, however, must not be allowed to lead to voters failing to cast their votes for the candidates they favor. Every voter should express his or her interest in these measures and personnel by voting one way or the other.

ANOTHER ABSOLUTE RULER FALLS

AFTER all the denunciation of the sultan by leaders of civilized peoples, it remained for the Turks themselves to invite their sultan to resign. The story of Turkey, under an absolute ruler, is one of deplorable episodes in which the butchery of minorities has had no small part. This arbitrary policy, cruel and ruthless, and pursued in spite of the protests of more humane people, has had a dangerous tendency. Ever and anon there have been rumors of punishment to be meted out to the Turk by Christian nations, but policies of compromise have prevented any nation or nations asking for a reckoning. Only during the World war was there any unanimity of opinion among the nations as to the price Turkey should pay for the commission of atrocities that have written red the pages of her history. Then the united voice of the allies, perhaps more because of Turkey had taken sides with the Central Empire than because of her outrages, demanded that Turkey should be excluded from Europe.

In preparing a peace settlement, the allies wrote into it provisions that called for the exclusion of this power from association with the nations of Europe, only to have their wishes thrown aside by the successful march of Turkish forces under the able leadership of Mustapha Kemal who, after he had defeated the Greeks, made demands upon the European nations that called for a return of the Turks to Europe. Many of the demands made by Kemal were granted so that war in Europe might be avoided and a conference will soon be held to consider a final settlement of the questions yet at issue.

In deciding to demand the sultan's resignation, the Turkish nationalist government has taken a step which may change the whole of the attitude assumed by Turkey towards other peoples who, as minorities, have suffered at the hands of the Turk in the past. Armenians may from now on have less to fear from their enemy. Much of Turkey's horrible history has resulted from the relation of her religion to her politics and the divorce of these may promise better days for Turkey and her neighbors.

Those who have met Mustapha Kemal and other leaders of the nationalist government have paid tribute to their sincerity of purpose and able leadership, and, because they are of a new school and have had their attitude to life colored by wider contacts, it is likely that the future of Turkey will be less befouled than her past. It is well that this has been done by the Turks themselves, for reforms that are self-imposed are much more likely to yield good than are reforms that are compelled by outside forces. The new nationalist government has chosen to relegate to itself all the power in Constantinople and throughout Turkey, and a caliph chosen from members of the imperial family on the basis of instruction, education, honesty and wisdom will preside over the religious affairs of the Moslem world. In the separation of religion and politics resides hope of a better order, for the Mohammedan religion holds so vast a sway over the Turkish people, through suggesting conquest of those who are not of Islam by military force, that only through the divorce of the government from the temple can Turkey take her place with the Christian nations of the world.

CIVIC PATRIOTISM

IT IS THE DUTY OF EVERY LOYAL BRAINERD CITIZEN TO KEEP HOT THE TRAIL OF HOME PATRIOTISM.

A community's growth and permanent progress is measured entirely by the scope of its commercial activity. By its ability to supply a means of livelihood for those who require it. This situation rests entirely in the hands of we Brainerd citizens and not only becomes a civic but a patriotic duty.

We Brainerd folks should be known all over this section as big-hearted, hard-hitting civic boosters. And we want you to apply this splendid quality to a feature of our community life and on a 100 per cent basis. THIS IS TO TRADE AT HOME.

Pulling dollars out of a community is another form of pulling out the very props that serve as its foundation.

Patronizing the business men of other localities and living in Brainerd is straddling the fence that divides the splendid force you could otherwise be lending to our city's progress. This may be plain talk, folks, but it is also PLAIN FACTS.

The merchandise, prices and service offered the Brainerd purchasing public preclude any excuses that might be offered for trading outside our city. There is nothing to justify such action and still want to be known as a loyal Brainerd booster.

The furniture stocks of our city, the clothing, drug, hardware, bakery, auto, shoe, jewelry, building supply, household, millinery, photo, electrical, plumbling, tailoring, and in fact almost every class of merchandise or service to be found elsewhere, is here in such degree and sufficiency as to make Brainerd a trading center able to supply your every want, and at money-saving figures.

Realize the truth of this statement, friends, and resolve deep down in your hearts to be 100 per cent Loyal Brainerd Citizens by being 100 per cent loyal to its commercial, professional and manufacturing interests.

This means prosperity, civic advancement, and hitting the line that helps to retard our civic progress—AND HITTING IT HARD.

Now is the time to think about those cold mornings coming next January, when you can see your breath indoors, and you want a quick hot fire to warm the house before the breakfast.

You'll have no trouble making the house comfortable if you have ACME SOOTLESS—it's a high grade furnace coal, clean to handle and clean to burn; "hot and bright like anthracite."

Order now and be sure of your supply.

CIVIC PATRIOTISM

IT IS THE DUTY OF EVERY LOYAL BRAINERD CITIZEN TO KEEP HOT THE TRAIL OF HOME PATRIOTISM.

A community's growth and permanent progress is measured entirely by the scope of its commercial activity. By its ability to supply a means of livelihood for those who require it. This situation rests entirely in the hands of we Brainerd citizens and not only becomes a civic but a patriotic duty.

We Brainerd folks should be known all over this section as big-hearted, hard-hitting civic boosters. And we want you to apply this splendid quality to a feature of our community life and on a 100 per cent basis. THIS IS TO TRADE AT HOME.

Pulling dollars out of a community is another form of pulling out the very props that serve as its foundation.

Patronizing the business men of other localities and living in Brainerd is straddling the fence that divides the splendid force you could otherwise be lending to our city's progress. This may be plain talk, folks, but it is also PLAIN FACTS.

The merchandise, prices and service offered the Brainerd purchasing public preclude any excuses that might be offered for trading outside our city. There is nothing to justify such action and still want to be known as a loyal Brainerd booster.

The furniture stocks of our city, the clothing, drug, hardware, bakery, auto, shoe, jewelry, building supply, household, millinery, photo, electrical, plumbling, tailoring, and in fact almost every class of merchandise or service to be found elsewhere, is here in such degree and sufficiency as to make Brainerd a trading center able to supply your every want, and at money-saving figures.

Realize the truth of this statement, friends, and resolve deep down in your hearts to be 100 per cent Loyal Brainerd Citizens by being 100 per cent loyal to its commercial, professional and manufacturing interests.

This means prosperity, civic advancement, and hitting the line that helps to retard our civic progress—AND HITTING IT HARD.

OTHER PEOPLES OPINIONS

REPLY TO MY PASTOR'S SERMON

Many of my friends, and by the way, I have a few left, have asked me, time and again, why I did not counteract the mis-statements made about me at the Business and Professional Men's meeting of October 26th, 1922, in regards to remarks made by me at a joint meeting of Shop Crafts' and Business Men's Committee in the Chamber of Commerce rooms a few days previous.

Beg to state my reason for not answering them was because I considered the source from which it came, but since my friend and pastor broke out in print November 4th, 1922, having in his possession a carbon copy of these mis-statement, I feel it my duty to comply, as my sanity not as insane as I appear to be to has been attacked, and because I am some people.

I am no preacher, neither am I an orator or a writer, but I will try in my humble way to clear my good name.

There are some things in the carbon copy that I did say, but my remarks have been so badly tampered with and have been so badly twisted and turned that it takes more than an ordinary Blacksmith, Machinist, or Boilermaker to straighten them out.

In your issue of Saturday, November 4th, 1922, I am credited with saying the following: "I am a single man, have neither chick nor child and no property in Brainerd, I have been elected one of the leaders of the shop crafts and am going to do my duty as it was expected I should do when I was elected. I am going to stick by the union and this strike until I do not have a crust left and then if the strike is not settled I will pack my grip and go elsewhere to get a job."

Yes, indeed some people are skating on thin ice when they tell such deliberate falsehoods and I would advise them to go a little slower in the future or they will break through and drown.

Now as to my real statement; "As chairman of the Federated Crafts I will do my duty as it is expected of me, I have suffered more these past three months than you gentlement realize because I am a single man, have neither chick nor child, and no home in Brainerd and it grieves me to dictate to men with large families and homes here, but I won't quit under fire as long as I am wanted by the boys and will stick until this strike is honorably settled, and then as I am on the blacklist and unable to get back here I'll pack my grip and go and work some where else."

I herewith challenge any one that happened to be at that meeting to refute this statement and to make a liar and an idiot out of me a second time. I will place my character against the man that was the originator of these damnable mis-statements in words as well as on carbon copies, and as for my pastor, I am grieved to think that he believes everything he sees in print and flies off the handle without investigating the truth as at least a preacher should do.

At our joint meeting there was no one to take the minutes. I failed to see a court reporter in the room. I possibly overlooked a dictaphone behind one of the pictures but my honest opinion is, that the carbon copy my pastor speaks about was a cleverly concocted after-meeting scheme of our Safety Committee to put strikers in bad.

It is surely discouraging, disheartening, and disgusting to listen to the howling and snarling of some of our so called prominent citizens who are trying hard to settle this strike no matter how, all because of selfish interest, all because the almighty dollar is checked in reaching their pockets for the time being. Please, gentlemen, let us conduct our own fight. I assure you it is not a picnic for us. Don't make it any harder by preaching to these men to go back to work without conditions. Some of you admitted you did not understand organization work, why not stick to something you do know as it would be easier and better for everybody concerned. I am against violence of any kind and am cautioning the men at all times to refrain from it, but if as chairman I must take the responsibility I stand condemned.

There are many more things I would like to say but lack of space compels me to shorten this communication. However, I never was a socialist, anarchist, or radical, and always considered myself a conservative and respected citizen of Brainerd for seventeen years prior to this strike, and as I said before I still have a few friends left among the business and professional men as well as among my co-workers.

In conclusion will say, that the sooner some of these meddlers realize that they are on thin ice when they interfere too much in this controversy between the Northern Pacific executives and their employees, the sooner we can get down to business and back to normalcy.

Hoping I have made myself clear and thanking those of the business and professional men who are giving us their whole hearted support and the Brainerd Dispatch for allotted space, I beg to remain yours for a just cause and an honorable settlement.

Respectfully,
G. J. KROES,
Chairman Federated Shop Crafts

COMMUNICATION

Dispatch:
Dear Sir:

We observe that the Northeast Brainerd Improvement League and perhaps a few other readers of the Dispatch believe that your paper has not presented the other side of the case in the question involving making the Water & Light Board elective. What is the other side; nothing more than to make the members elective. Why depend upon the Dispatch for more. Why do not the advocates of this amendment step in and argue their case. There is no argument in its favor. We also would like to hear some. We believe the Dispatch pointed out very clearly what some people have said in behalf of the amendment, but before the amendment was presented, and that was that a self selected group wants to control the membership which is now controlled by the Mayor. If any reader is wondering why the other side is not apparent, it is quite conclusive that there is no other side, and because the authors are ashamed to tell you what it is they are after. This amendment is the most demoralizing thing that could have been presented and the fact that no one defends it suggests what deplorable results it will develop if adopted. No one wants to speak up and say what good the change will do. There is nothing to say. Yes, let us hear more about the other side. We agree with that sentiment. Smoke 'em out. Why be ashamed to acknowledge the authorship of this amendment. It seems that utilities worth over one-half million dollars ought to be managed as now by men not afraid to state their story to the public instead of trusting that valuable business to ward politicians as would be the case under this new amendment.

Yours truly,
PLAIN CITIZEN

YOUR VOTE

Two hundred and fifty-five years ago, our ancestors signed the Declaration of Independence. We fought for it, died for it and accomplished our Independence. Why did we fight? Because we were not allowed a voice in the affairs of our nation.

When the United States Constitution was ratified, only the wealthiest and most influential people were allowed to vote, and have a voive in the making of our laws.

Our most intelligent and democratic men, Franklin and Gerry fought for the rights of the common people, for the right of the people in the voice in the nation's affairs. Noble, intellectual, clear-minded men fought against the common people's rights, disapproving of them, because they said the people were too ignorant and uneducated.

By dint of untold labor, and ceaseless effort, our rights were secured. Are we, then, to let ourselves disregard the rights for which our forefathers have fought since time immemorial? The man who doesn't vote is the same as breaking the laws of his country.

A person may be candidate for election. You may not like him but disapprove of him, but you do not go out and vote for him. He is elected. You complain. You have not a just cause for complaint, for your vote is the one that counts as much as the other fellows. You are to blame.

Your presence at the polls shows your support of your country and of the municipality in which you live. It increases your self-respect and shows that you appreciate your rights. It shows that you are following national and local events and are an active and intelligent citizen.

PAID ADVERTISEMENT—Costing $11.50. Inserted and to be paid for by Walter F. Wieland, Candidate for County Attorney, Brainerd, Minn.

Walter F. Wieland

Candidate For

County Attorney

To the Voters of Crow Wing County:

Because I am asking you to elect me your County Attorney at the election to be held on November 7th, I ask you to consider the following facts.

I was born at Brainerd, November 7, 1886; attended the Brainerd public schools, graduating from the high school in 1905; graduated from the law school of the University of Minnesota and admitted to the practice of law in Minnesota in 1910.

I have been actively engaged in the practice of law at Brainerd for over twelve years and during that time served two terms, or four years, as Judge of the Municipal Court of Brainerd. I feel that my conduct of that office must have been satisfactory to the voters because I had no opposition when I was elected for the second term. I was not a candidate for a third term.

It is the duty of the County Attorney, as you probably know, to prosecute all law violations brought to his attention by the sheriff or citizens of the county, except violations of village or city ordinances or misdemeanors under state law occurring within cities or villages, and it is also his duty to be the legal advisor to the County Board and the County officers. The business affairs of this County are now so large that this last named duty of the County Attorney is also of great importance to the voters and tax payers although many do not realize this. My twelve years of law experience is none too long to enable me to properly safeguard the County's interests in this particular or to properly represent the County in court.

If elected I shall place the County's business first and devote all necessary time in attending to it and I promise that I will try to serve all persons in all sections of the County with equal fairness and shall use my best ability in co-operating with the citizens and other officers of the County in seeing that all the laws are enforced without favoritism to any one. Law violations will be prosecuted by me where there is sufficient evidence obtainable as a basis for prosecution.

I present my candidacy to you on my record as a citizen of the County, practicing lawyer and Municipal Judge. Your support at the polls on election day will be greatly appreciated.

WALTER F. WIELAND.

However, I never was a socialist, anarchist, or radical, and always considered myself a conservative and respected citizen of Brainerd for seventeen years prior to this strike, and as I said before I still have a few friends left among the business and professional men as well as among my co-workers.

In conclusion will say, that the sooner some of these meddlers realize that they are on thin ice when they interfere too much in this controversy between the Northern Pacific executives and their employees, the sooner we can get down to business and back to normalcy.

oHping I have made myself clear and thanking those of the business and professional men who are giving us their whole hearted support and the Brainerd Dispatch for allotted space, I beg to remain yours for a just cause and an honorable settlement.

Respectfully,
G. J. KROES,

COMMUNICATION

Dispatch:
Dear Sir:

We observe that the Northeast Brainerd Improvement League and perhaps a few other readers of the Dispatch believe that your paper has not presented the other side of the case in the question involving making the Water & Light Board elective. What is the other side; nothing more than to make the members elective. Why depend upon the Dispatch for more. Why do not the advocates of this amendment step in and argue their case. There is no argument in its favor. We also would like to hear some. We believe the Dispatch pointed out very clearly what some people have said in behalf of the amendment, but before the amendment was presented, and that was that a self selected group wants to control the membership which is now controlled by the Mayor. If any reader is wondering why the other side is not apparent, it is quite conclusive that there is no other side, and because the authors are ashamed to tell you what it is they are after. This amendment is the most demoralizing thing that could have been presented and the fact that no one defends it suggests what deplorable results it will develop if adopted. No one wants to speak up and say what good the change will do. There is nothing to say. Yes, let us hear more about the other side. We agree with that sentiment. Smoke 'em out. Why be ashamed to acknowledge the authorship of this amendment. It seems that utilities worth over one-half million dollars ought to be managed as now by men not afraid to state their story to the public instead of trusting that valuable business to ward politicians as would be the case under this new amendment.

Yours truly,
PLAIN CITIZEN

YOUR VOTE

Two hundred and fifty-five years ago, our ancestors signed the Declaration of Independence. We fought for it, died for it and accomplished our Independence. Why did we fight? Because we were not allowed a voice in the affairs of our nation.

When the United States Constitution was ratified, only the wealthiest and most influential people were allowed to vote, and have a voive in the making of our laws.

Our most intelligent and democratic men, Franklin and Gerry fought for the rights of the common people, for the right of the people in the voice in the nation's affairs. Noble, intellectual, clear-minded men fought against the common people's rights, disapproving of them, because they said the people were too ignorant and uneducated.

By dint of untold labor, and ceaseless effort, our rights were secured. Are we, then, to let ourselves disregard the rights for which our forefathers have fought since time immemorial? The man who doesn't vote is the same as breaking the laws of his country.

A person may be candidate for election. You may not like him but disapprove of him, but you do not go out and vote for him. He is elected. You complain. You have not a just cause for complaint, for your vote is the one that counts as much as the other fellows. You are to blame.

Your presence at the polls shows your support of your country and of the municipality in which you live. It increases your self-respect and shows that you appreciate your rights. It shows that you are following national and local events and are an active and intelligent citizen.

General Election Nov. 7th, 1922

PAID ADVERTISEMENT—Costing $11.50. Inserted and to be paid for by Walter F. Wieland, Candidate for County Attorney, Brainerd, Minn.

Walter F. Wieland

Candidate For

County Attorney

To the Voters of Crow Wing County:

Because I am asking you to elect me your County Attorney at the election to be held on November 7th, I ask you to consider the following facts.

I was born at Brainerd, November 7, 1886; attended the Brainerd public schools, graduating from the high school in 1905; graduated from the law school of the University of Minnesota and admitted to the practice of law in Minnesota in 1910.

I have been actively engaged in the practice of law at Brainerd for over twelve years and during that time served two terms, or four years, as Judge of the Municipal Court of Brainerd. I feel that my conduct of that office must have been satisfactory to the voters because I had no opposition when I was elected for the second term. I was not a candidate for a third term.

It is the duty of the County Attorney, as you probably know, to prosecute all law violations brought to his attention by the sheriff or citizens of the county, except violations of village or city ordinances or misdemeanors under state law occurring within cities or villages, and it is also his duty to be the legal advisor to the County Board and the County officers. The business affairs of this County are now so large that this last named duty of the County Attorney is also of great importance to the voters and tax payers although many do not realize this. My twelve years of law experience is none too long to enable me to properly safeguard the County's interests in this particular or to properly represent the County in court.

If elected I shall place the County's business first and devote all necessary time in attending to it and I promise that I will try to serve all persons in all sections of the County with equal fairness and shall use my best ability in co-operating with the citizens and other officers of the County in seeing that all the laws are enforced without favoritism to any one. Law violations will be prosecuted by me where there is sufficient evidence obtainable as a basis for prosecution.

I present my candidacy to you on my record as a citizen of the County, practicing lawyer and Municipal Judge. Your support at the polls on election day will be greatly appreciated.

WALTER F. WIELAND.

J. ADAM BEDE HAS LARGE HOUSE

Gives an Excellent Address in Support of Candidacy of Frank B. Kellogg

MRS. J. C. NODOLF ALSO SPOKE

Republican Policies Regarding High Protective Tariff, Etc., Clearly Enunciated

A very enthusiastic audience greeted J. Adam Bede at the New Park theater Saturday evening. The house was well filled despite the inclemency of the weather.

A number of prominent local republicans were on the stage, including Chairman D. D. Schrader, R. R. Wise, P. M. Zakariasen, Mrs. E. J. Quinn, Mrs. E. O. Webb, Mrs. J. A. Thabes and Mrs. Rose Parker

With the raising of the curtain and the unfurling of the American flag, the audience stood and sang America, led by S. F. Alderman, with Mrs. Walter F. Wieland at the piano.

The American Legion quartet rendered several appropriate selections, which were heartily encored. Mrs. E. J. Quinn then introduced Mrs. J. C. Nodolf, of Minneapolis, stating that the speaker was related to our fellow townsman, S. R. Adair.

Mrs. Nodolf proved herself a very capable speaker. She pleaded for intelligent voting, and of the duty of everyone qualified, to cast their ballot on Tuesday. Her arguments were in favor of the republican party, showing what this party has done for the United States in the past 62 years and how it is responsible for the best things that have been accomplished in this country.

The republican party, stated Mrs. Nodolf, is the best friend of labor, through the protective tariff, which keeps out the cheap competitive labor of other countries and which we could not meet, were it not for the republican tariff.

The speaker also pointed out that the party is the best friend of woman, on account of the Mother's Pension Act and the child labor laws, both gifts of republican legislation.

Mrs. Nodolf showed how the present administration had brought order out of disorder and of its many accomplishments in the past 18 months. She made a strong plea for the re-election of Senator Frank B. Kellogg that this unfinished work of the administration might be continued.

Mrs. Nodolf's arguments showed a deep study of her subject, and her talk was well received.

R. R. Wise then introduced J. Adam Bede, who in his witty manner brought home many vital and important facts. He stated that he was strongly in favor of two large political parties, one in power, the other nearly so, in order that one might be a check on the other. He plead for patience in solving the political problems before the country, stating that though much could be and had been accomplished in the short time the republican administration had been in power, still it is impossible to complete the big program in 18 months.

Mr. Bede discussed at length the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater project, and the important part that Senator Kellogg is playing in the working out of its program. It was shown that the project has reached the treaty stage between the United States and Canada, and how the undertaking is to be financed without a dollar coming out of the United States treasury.

This deep water-way, if allowed to be completed, will mean much to the farmers of the Northwest, in getting cheaper freight rates on their products and being able to compete in European markets with other agricultural countries.

He showed how the railroads of the United States would soon be swamped with low class freight if there were not some other way developed of taking care of the growing commerce, which is attaining such proportions that it needs every possible method and means of transportation.

New York said the speaker, is working hard against the planned waterway, because she is afraid that ocean ships will go right past her door and in this way she will lose much of her commercial prestige. Mr. Kellogg, being on the foreign relations committee of the senate, has much to do with the successful completion of this great project which is so close to the hearts and the destinies of the people of the great Northwest. It was shown that our senator is acting in the capacity of our attorney, especially working in the interests of this state.

The Newberry case was discussed and explained at length, Mr. Bede showing how the charges made against the Michigan senator were proven untrue, and the case thrown out of the supreme court. He upheld Mr. Kellogg in his voting to seat Newberry on the grounds that his election was absolutely legal, and showed that he was the choice of the people of Michigan.

Mr. Bede spoke at length, defending the protective tariff and against free trade, showing that the latter was enacted for conditions existing before the Civil War, when slave labor made production very inexpensive, and most of the manufacturing was done in Europe. "If you want our labor to go down to the plane of German or Japanese labor," said the speaker, "take off our protective tariff". Free trade should have been buried when slavery was, since both went hand-in-hand. Our American labor cannot compete, for example, with German labor at $2 per week, unless we have a high protective tariff. Mr. Bede proved these statements with a number of concrete examples and exact figures.

Importers of the United States are against a protective tariff, said Mr. Bede, and he quoted a few examples of how importers add to the cost of cheaply bought foreign made articles.

China dinner set $21.50 in France, tariff $11.80, transportation $2, landed cost in United States $35.50. Sold by importer to American public for $134.

Pearl necklace cost in France $12.25, transportation 98c, tariff $4.28, landed cost $18.26. Sold by importer in United States for $150.

Swiss watch, seven jewel, value in Switzerland $1, transportation one and three-quarters cent; tariff 30c, landed cost $1.31 3-4. Retailed in United States by importers for $9.45.

Linen towels, dozen, value in Ireland $14.82, transportation 52c, tariff $5.18 7-10; landed cost $20.52 7-10. Retailed by importer in United States $65.

Jointed doll valued in Germany 37c, transportation 60c, tariff 13c, landed cost $1.10. Retailed in United States by importer for $4.50.

Four hundred day clock, valued in Geneva, Switzerland at $1.70; transportation 6c, tariff 51c, landed cost $2.27. Retailed in United States by importer for $30.

Silk bloomers and chemise, valued in Belgium at $17.51, transportation 45c, tariff $10.50, landed cost $28.46 Retailed in United States by importer at $90.

Mr. Bede was entertained at dinner by R. R. Wise at the Ransford hotel. He is scheduled to speak in Duluth today, closing a ten-day campaign in Minnesota in the interests of senator Kellogg's re-election.

TRUCK OVERTURNED; MRS. BULLOCK HURT

In a letter to Ben Dunham, of the Brainerd Electric Co., Walter Bullock, aviator of Breezy Point, explains the accident in which his wife was seriously injured.

Mrs. Bullock left Breezy Point on Wednesday for Duluth, making the trip in a truck, driven by Frank Norris. Another man from the summer resort acocmpanied them.

In negotiating the long, steep hill going into Duluth, the truck was ditched, turning over three times. Mrs. Bullock was the only occupant injured. She received a broken collarbone and her spine was cracked Duluth police state that it is still a mystery to them why all three in the truck were not instantly killed.

Mr. Bullock writes that his wife will have to lie in a cast for at least three months, and that her chances for recovery depend entirely upon whether or not infection sets in at the injured places. This, of course, cannot be determined for three or four days, the doctors say.

Mrs. Bullock was going to Duluth to visit her sister who resides there. She was picked up after the accident in an unconscious condition, and it was some little time before she was identified.

BURNING PERMITS TO BE ISSUED

Burning permits can now be obtained from township fire wardens for burning brush, says District Forester John Nelson.

No permits have been issued for several months, because of the extreme dry weather, which has made small fires of any kind very dangerous. The heavy rains of the past ten days have removed this menace, and those having brush to burn may feel no hesitancy about doing so.

PREPARE FOR ELECTION

Voting Booths Being Installed, Wired for Electric Lights, oLcation of Polls Again Given

Ballot boxes are ready, the voting booths are being installed today and wired for electric lights, which brings home more forcibly than even the candidates could do, the fact that the general election is scheduled for tomorrow.

Officials wish to again have the polling places enumerated, since there are one or two changes in the location of these places.

The polls for the first ward will be located in the municipal court room in the city hall; the second ward polls will be in the basement of the public library, entrance on Main street; in the third and fourth wards in the hose houses in these respective wards, and in the fifth ward, the new offices of the Brainerd Gas Company, in the O'Brien building, just south of Fitzsimmons & Wagner's on South Broadway. This is on the first floor of the building, and can be seen from the street.

ELECTION PREDICTION ON SIXTH DISTRICT

Congressman Harold Knutson will carry every county in the sixth district, committee men from each of the eleven counties have reported to Chairman D. D. Schrader at Brainerd.

Senator Kellogg will carry the district, said Mr. Schrader, but may lose two counties by a very close vote.

In Crow Wing county, said Mr. Schrader, there should be a vote of between 6,500 and 7,000 cast. Knutson will carry Crow Wing county by over 1,500 votes. Kellogg, Preus and the rest of the republican ticket will win by a smaller margin.

Kellogg will carry the state, Shipstead will be close, Mrs. Olesen third, polling about 225,000 to 250,000 votes.

Prominent democrats realizing the situation, will do for Kellogg what the republicans in North Dakota are doing for O'Connor, the democratic candidate for senator in order that these states may be saved from socialist representation in the United States senate.

Most republicans and democrats realize that where the fight is one with radicalism that they must unite in an effort to keep our state free from this element in our higher offices, said Mr. Schrader.

NOTICE

Ballot boxes are ready, the voting booths are being installed today and wired for electric lights, which brings home more forcibly than even the candidates could do, the fact that the general election is scheduled for tomorrow.

Officials wish to again have the polling places enumerated, since there are one or two changes in the location of these places.

The polls for the first ward will be located in the municipal court room in the city hall; the second ward polls will be in the basement of the public library, entrance on Main street; in the third and fourth wards in the hose houses in these respective wards, and in the fifth ward, the new offices of the Brainerd Gas Company, in the O'Brien building, just south of Fitzsimmons & Wagner's on South Broadway. This is on the first floor of the building, and can be seen from the street.

ELECTION PREDICTION ON SIXTH DISTRICT

Congressman Harold Knutson will carry every county in the sixth district, committee men from each of the eleven counties have reported to Chairman D. D. Schrader at Brainerd.

Senator Kellogg will carry the district, said Mr. Schrader, but may lose two counties by a very close vote.

In Crow Wing county, said Mr. Schrader, there should be a vote of between 6,500 and 7,000 cast. Knutson will carry Crow Wing county by over 1,500 votes. Kellogg, Preus and the rest of the republican ticket will win by a smaller margin.

Kellogg will carry the state, Shipstead will be close, Mrs. Olesen third, polling about 225,000 to 250,000 votes.

Prominent democrats realizing the situation, will do for Kellogg what the republicans in North Dakota are doing for O'Connor, the democratic candidate for senator in order that those states may be saved from socialist representation in the United States senate.

Most republicans and democrats realize that where the fight is one with radicalism that they must unite in an effort to keep our state free from this element in our higher offices, said Mr. Schrader.

JACK JOHNSON ASKS ANOTHER CHANCE

New York, Nov. 4.—With the optimistic, care free attitude that has always been characteristic of him, Jack Johnson, former world's heavyweight champion, still hopes that he will get a break in his favor and will be allowed to return to the ring.

No matter if he is alone in thinking so, Big Jack believes he has a lot left and that he could work up to another chance for the title.

He has been working out daily in the gymnasium at Madison Square Garden and sounding out the boxing commission preparatory to making an application fos a license.

Unless the commission deems it a good political move to reverse itself, Johnson cannot be granted a license as long as the present rule establishing thirty-eight years as the age limit for boxers remains on the book.

This rule was enacted as a direct move to prevent Johnson and Jess Willard from boxing in New York.

Johnson admits "about forty-two years" but some ring followers, who have known him a long time, think he is even older.

The former champion weighs around 230 pounds. He is at an age now where flesh is removed only with a great deal of labor and as he is said to be well fixed financially, it is not clear why he should choose the tedium of hard training to get back in shape.

Johnson claims that he can beat Harry Wills or any others of the heavyweight contender class. Perhaps he could. He did not show any too much in his training, however. Tarzan Larkin, no better than a tenth-rater, worked out with him recently and Jack quit after three rounds, breathing hard through cut and swollen lips.

* * * * * * * * *

In its attitude on the Johnson case, the boxing commission is in a ticklish position. It has to listen to arguments that the return of the former champion would not be a good thing for boxing and at the same time to avoid the chance of accusations that it was not giving him a square deal.

Regardless of what Johnson has done in the past, he has been very well behaved since he left Leavenworth. He paid his debt there for his indiscretions of the past and right down to the fine point it must be admitted that he is square now.

* * * * * * * * *

Although it was generally believed that he was broke when he came back to the United States and surrendered to the federal authorities, Johnson shows no signs of being in need of money.

He still dresses like a fashion plate and drives around in a high priced car. He spends a lot of money and apparently earns a lot. He was doing theatrical work for a while at $1,000 a week but the show closed and at the present time he is "out of work."

* * * * * * * * *

While he did much to draw censure on him, there were always some admirable traits about Johnson. Those who were not inclined to be prejudiced always agreed that Jack was made the victim of bad friends and poor advice.

"IRELAND WILL FIND ITSELF," FR. CREAN

Former Priest of Brainerd, Now at Bovey, Sees Hope of Early Settlement of Irish Affairs

VISITED SIX MONTHS THERE

He Was in the So-Called "War Zone" and Got First Hand Information on Conditions

That Ireland will find herself during the next eight months or a year and will be conducting her government and economic affairs in a serene and placid way for the mutual benefit of all, is the opinion of Father Crean, who just returned from a six months' visit to that country. By next summer, Father Crean said, Ireland will be a fine place to spend a vacation.

Father Crean, now with a pastorate in Bovey, will be remembered by all parishioners of St. Francis Catholic church in Brainerd as having been assistant pastor here under Rev. Father J. J. O'Mahoney, before going to Pine River and then Bovey.

Father Crean was in the so-called "war zone," where, he says, conditions are peculiar, to say the least. Ninety per cent of the people of Ireland want Free State government and are not satisfied with the way things are being run. They want to give the Free State a chance to function. The irregulars, who call themselves Republicans, make up the worst element in the country, according to Father Crean, and find little sympathy for their cause among the people of the country. Their tactics consist of going about at night and in disguise, destroying and doing everything in their power to hinder the Free State government from functioning. These irregulars are scattered throughout the country, but much stronger in the southern part of Ireland. They cut up the roads, destroy bridges, cut wires and, in general, try to hold up or frustrate the operation of the economical industry of the country and do much to hinder and delay travel and the mail service throughout the country.

These irregulars have the condemnation of the mass of people in Ireland and the Irish bishops, as a body, have denounced them. According to Father Crean, one may run into these irregulars almost any place. He met them several times and was stopped but whin they recognized who he was he was not further molested, but allowed to go on his way.

While staying at a hotel one night Free State troops took up positions in his apartments and those adjoining, Father Crean said, and later he found an explosive bullet in his room. He changed his place of abode during the rest of his stay.

The general financial condition of the country is good, according to Father Crean, who sees a great future in the economic development of the country following the settlement of the trouble that is now being caused by the irregulars. The passenger service from Queenstown to the south of Ireland has been killed by the activities of the irregulars, so that passengers coming to America from Ireland must go to England and sail from Liverpool or Southampton. Father Crean came back on the S. S. Olympia. He said that he had a very delightful return voyage, but that his trip over, which took nine days, was through rough seas and bad weather. He arrived in Ireland on Easter Monday.

Asked in regard to the liquor served aboard ship, Father Crean said that he saw no drunkenness at all on either crossing or coming back and did not see any abuses as a result of drinking.

Employe Partnership a Big Factor in Efficiency

IN its issue of Oct. 1, 1922, the Chicago Tribune says, "In this field (industrial peace) there is much to be hoped for from intelligent effort to induce investment by employes in the industry or business in which they are employed. * * * * If the millions that have been lost in ill-advised strikes could have been invested in shares in the enterprise, the workers in many cases would have accomplished the benefits they sought."

The acknowledged efficiency of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is due in no small measure to the fact that every employe of the Company, if he will, may become a partner in the business by taking advantage of the stock-purchase-plan. To the amount of stock subscribed for by the employe, the Company gives one-half, and the employe is allowed to pay in small monthly installments. Thus he has an excellent investment which he can watch and help make more profitable.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) employes are insuring, through investment, the present well being and future security of their families, an end which every man is striving to accomplish. These men and women know that the Company is genuinely interested in furthering their welfare. Their energies, therefore, are released from worry over the future and are turned to increased efficiency that comes with enthusiasm.

Whole-hearted co-operation is essential to the conduct of any business. The management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) recognizes this fact and believes that no better way to secure this co-operation can be devised than by giving every employe an opportunity to become a partner in the business. The enthusiastic response which the employes have given to this plan proves conclusively that the Company has solved a problem of importance to the Company, the employe, and the public.

There is no idle time nor decreased efficiency due to disputes, discontent, or misunderstandings to be charged into the consumers bills. Every employe of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is delivering full-time and energy to the performance of his task, and this work is to him a pleasure, not a task.

It is submitted that this is another item in that cycle of service which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) renders the public.

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Use the Old-Time Sage Tea and Sulphur and Nobody Will Know

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks, recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappear; after another application or two its natural color is restored, and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

That Ireland will find herself during the next eight months or a year and will be conducting her government and economic affairs in a serene and placid way for the mutual benefit of all, is the opinion of Father Crean, who just returned from a six months' visit to that country. By next summer, Father Crean said, Ireland will be a fine place to spend a vacation.

Father Crean, now with a pastorate in Bovey, will be remembered by all parishioners of St. Francis Catholic church in Brainerd as having been assistant pastor here under Rev. Father J. J. O'Mahoney, before going to Pine River and then Bovey.

Father Crean was in the so-called "war zone," where, he says, conditions are peculiar, to say the least. Ninety per cent of the people of Ireland want Free State government and are not satisfied with the way things are being run. They want to give the Free State a chance to function. The irregulars, who call themselves Republicans, make up the worst element in the country, according to Father Crean, and find little sympathy for their cause among the people of the country. Their tactics consist of going about at night and in disguise, destroying and doing everything in their power to hinder the Free State government from functioning. These irregulars are scattered throughout the country, but much stronger in the southern part of Ireland. They cut up the roads, destroy bridges, cut wires and, in general, try to hold up or frustrate the operation of the economical industry of the country and do much to hinder and delay travel and the mail service throughout the country.

These irregulars have the condemnation of the mass of people in Ireland and the Irish bishops, as a body, have denounced them. According to Father Crean, one may run into these irregulars almost any place. He met them several times and was stopped but whtn they recognized who he was he was not further molested, but allowed to go on his way.

While staying at a hotel one night Free State troops took up positions in his apartments and those adjoining, Father Crean said, and later he found an explosive bullet in his room. He changed his place of abode during the rest of his stay.

The general financial condition of the country is good, according to Father Crean, who sees a great future in the economic development of the country following the settlement of the trouble that is now being caused by the irregulars. The passenger service from Queenstown to the south of Ireland has been killed by the activities of the irregulars, so that passengers coming to America from Ireland must go to England and sail from Liverpool or Southampton. Father Crean came back on the S. S. Olympia. He said that he had a very delightful return voyage, but that his trip over, which took nine days, was through rough seas and bad weather. He arrived in Ireland on Easter Monday.

Asked in regard to the liquor served aboard ship, Father Crean said that he saw no drunkenness at all on either crossing or coming back and did not see any abuses as a result of drinking.

WRIGLEY'S P-K

This new sugar-coated gum delights young and old.

Employe Partnership a Big Factor in Efficiency

In its issue of Oct. 1, 1922, the Chicago Tribune says, "In this field (industrial peace) there is much to be hoped for from intelligent effort to induce investment by employes in the industry or business in which they are employed. * * * * If the millions that have been lost in ill-advised strikes could have been invested in shares in the enterprise, the workers in many cases would have accomplished the benefits they sought."

The acknowledged efficiency of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is due in no small measure to the fact that every employe of the Company, if he will, may become a partner in the business by taking advantage of the stock-purchase-plan. To the amount of stock subscribed for by the employe, the Company gives one-half, and the employe is allowed to pay in small monthly installments. Thus he has an excellent investment which he can watch and help make more profitable.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) employes are insuring, through investment, the present well being and future security of their families, an end which every man is striving to accomplish. These men and women know that the Company is genuinely interested in furthering their welfare. Their energies, therefore, are released from worry over the future and are turned to increased efficiency that comes with enthusiasm.

Whole-hearted co-operation is essential to the conduct of any business. The management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) recognizes this fact and believes that no better way to secure this co-operation can be devised than by giving every employe an opportunity to become a partner in the business. The enthusiastic response which the employes have given to this plan proves conclusively that the Company has solved a problem of importance to the Company, the employe, and the public.

There is no idle time nor decreased efficiency due to disputes, discontent, or misunderstandings to be charged into the consumers bills. Every employe of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is delivering full-time and energy to the performance of his task, and this work is to him a pleasure, not a task.

It is submitted that this is another item in that cycle of service which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) renders the public.

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Use the Old-Time Sage Tea and Sulphur and Nobody Will Know

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks, recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappear; after another application or two its natural color is restored, and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

OUCH! PAIN, PAIN. RUB RHEUMATIC, ACHING JOINTS

St. Jacobs Oil stops any pain, and rheumatism is pain only.

THE PARIS MODES

Crepe de Chine Favored by Prominent Dressmaker.

Georgette Crepe Is Close Rival for Dressy Afternoon Wear—Sheer Fabric Latest Novelty.

White crepe de chine dresses are often bound at the neck, edge of sleeves and the bottom of the skirt with bands of white velvet ribbon. In addition to the large motifs of lace one prominent Paris dressmaker is also using very narrow black lace insertion in the form of motifs on white crepe de chine dresses. She makes tiny rosettes, also of self-materials, which are appliqued in bands to form trimmings.

This maker continues to use the circular cut in many of her skirts. She has not deviated from this idea in spite of the fact that many Paris dressmakers have gone back to straight styles.

No one style of sleeve characterizes her line. Many of her evening dresses are entirely sleeveless, while day dresses often have short, tight-fitting, set-in sleeves; still other models have large flowing bell sleeves.

As a new afternoon material she has gone back to the old-fashioned black alpaca, of which she makes many tailored two-piece and three-piece suits. She also emphasizes the three and two-piece crepe de chine tailored suit.

One of the new points is a puffed collar which one sees on both dresses and suits. These puffed collars are particularly lovely on her dresses which have vertical band trimmings, in which instance the vertical lines are continued on the collar. She also uses fine hemstitching, fine tucking, and narrow cire braids for the continuous vertical trimming on these dresses with puffed collars.

The crepe de chine dress shows no sign of wane. The georgette crepe is a close rival for dressy afternoon wear, but crepe de chine is pre-eminent from a standpoint of general use.

The latest novelty is a sheer fabric which will be used as a fall novelty to replace the cotton hand-made dresses of the summer. Dresses made of this wool crepe are beautifully hand-drawn in patterns exactly matching those noted in crepe de chine and cotton voiles.

JEWELRY FOR SUMMER WEAR

High-Colored Stones Have Call for Daytime; Pearls in First Place for Evening.

Pearls are having a real place in the sun just now! High-colored stones of one sort or another appear in jewelry for day-time wear, but for evening pearls seem to have first place. The fancy is for various things to match—a pair of dangling earrings, a hair ornament, a bracelet, and a string of pearls for the neck, all to be worn with a dainty summer evening gown. Earrings are shown in the greatest variety of styles, the very long tassels being in high favor, as well as single, double or triple sets of hoops.

One hair ornament shown is distinctly interesting for the bobbed-haired miss. It is a real cap made of pearls strung on fine wires and interlaced to fit the head. Pearl bracelets, consisting of one or more strings of pearl beads, are very dainty on a pretty white arm, but the arm must be pretty, and it must be white. A sunburned wrist circled with pearls could hardly please the eye.

In jewelry for daytime wear the bright-colored stones share honors with black and white in combination or singly. Black jet necklaces and earrings are in high favor, and ivory, either carved or plain, is popular. Crystal jewelry is also very popular.

Most women who go in for this popular-priced jewelry indulge the taste to the extent of having such an array of it that any frock may have its own particular accessories, and certainly this seems the thing to do if it is to be worn at all.

Ornamental girdles continue to be popular, some of the more practical ones of suede or plain leather having decidedly ornate clasps fashioned of colored stones.

PARASOL AND HAT TO MATCH

Sets May Be of Any Material Desired; Checked Gingham Is Popular This Season.

Parasol and hat to match is a decidedly approved summer style. They may be of any material fancy may dictate. For a practical set of this sort checked gingham is playing a strong role, and when this fabric is combined with organdie in white or color some fetching things may be produced.

Parasols of chiffon, lace, organdie and silks galore are featured this season, and all sorts of novel and interesting trimmings appear on these sunshades. One dainty parasol recently seen was trimmed at the edge, half way up and at the point where it was joined to the frame with curled ostrich. Another was fringed with monkey fur. A white silk sunshade was finished at the edge with a dainty garland of field flowers. Such a parasol could be carried effectively by the bridesmaid or maid of honor at a summer afternoon wedding, big drooping hats to be similarly decorated and field flowers to be used for the bouquets.

Fancy silks of all sorts, either in all-over or bordered patterns, are being used for more practical parasols or umbrellas.

Still Fashionable.

Both the beaded bags and the jade jewelry have retained their popularity and for the same reason, because of their beauty. The latest bead bags are of the draw-string type, not the sort with stiff frames, but the kind that can be pulled together in a little pucker at the top and they swing easily from the wrist. Many of them have Indian symbols as designs and little fanciful beading stars or tassels as a finish.

Ink Froze Upon Her Pen.

Mrs. Spencer Jones, who is accompanying her husband, the well-known astronomer, to Christmas island to prepare for September's total eclipse of the sun, will undertake important duties during the totality. She is only one of the many women who, today, take an interest in astronomy, and her action recalls the great name of Caroline Herschel, whose brother, Sir William, found her an invaluable assistant. He used to stand at night in the open air from dusk to dawn gazing down the tube of his mighty reflector, and he would dictate what he saw to his sister. She wrote down his notes and recorded the position of the objects which he was describing. It is said that sometimes the cold at Slough was so intense that the ink would freeze on her pen.

New Sand-Cutting Machine.

To provide the advantage of mechanically tempered sand in small foundries, for which the older sand-cutting machines are too large, a small light type of the same machine, weighing less than 700 pounds has been placed on the market.

The cutting principle remains the same, but power is needed only for rotating the cutting cylinder. The machine is propelled and guided by hand, like a pushcart, by grasping the rear frame member. One man can handle it on well-paved floors, but on soft or uneven floors, two are required.—Cleveland News-Leader.

ATTRACTIVE NEW FALL STYLE

This is a new fall creation in a street model made of navy poiret. Collar, cuffs and belt are trimmed with caracul fur, side panel and cuff trimmed with cut-steel cabochons.
